700 DIE IN ITALY WHEN DAM BREAKS

LAKE CLENO SWELLS BEYOND STRENGTH OF WALLS

TORRENTIAL DOWNPOUR WRECKS ITALIAN TOWNS

Narrow Valley Swept Clean by Rush of Waters.—Everything in Path of Flood Obliterated.—Power Houses Demolished.

Milan.—Dispatches reaching here from points in the Brembana valley where flood waters, loosed when the great hydro-electric dam at the foot of Lake Cleno burst, submerging many villages, say the number of persons who lost their lives will total more than 700. Eight million cubic meters of water were loosed in the torrent, which almost completely washed away many of the smaller towns.

Dezzo has been obliterated by the torrent. Out of 500 inhabitants there are only three survivors. All the houses were washed away. Pillars of a few public buildings are all that is left of a once beautiful little village.

The hamlets of Bueggio, Tevena and Corna, farther down the valley, were destroyed. The loss of lives in these hamlets alone, it is said, will exceed 200.

It is not yet definitely known how the other small settlements fared, but the belief is that many of them have been wrecked.

The flood has left utter devastation in its path. Everything, people, horses, cattle, houses have been carried away. The property damage is tremendous.

All means of communication have been destroyed and it will be some time before the outside world knows the full extent of the catastrophe.

All the country adjacent to Lake Cleno which depended on the power plants for light are in total darkness.

VETERANS' BUREAU PROSECUTIONS IMMINENT.—STATEMENT

Washington.—Federal prosecution of persons responsible for the "grave wrongs of an apparently criminal nature," found by the senate committee investigating the veterans' bureau, was foreshadowed in a statement issued by the department of justice. Assistant Attorney General Crim, whose resignation was to take effect December 15, has studied the testimony taken by the committee, and will remain as special assistant to the attorney general to prosecute the case.

The statement pointed out that Attorney General Daugherty could not discuss the case nor say what steps were contemplated until definite action had commenced, owing to the necessity for insuring unbiased trial.

Savants Favor Evolution

Columbus, Ohio.—Having approved the address of their president, Joseph V. Denney, in an attack on church bodies seeking to restrict the teaching of evolution in American universities, members of the American Association of University Professors are considering the advisability of demanding a voice in the government of the institutions in which they teach. Faculty representation on boards of trustees and faculty participation in the determination of educational policies of universities were proposed by the committee chairmen reporting at the first session.

New Warship Commissioned

Washington.—The last great warship the United States will add to its fleet for years took her place in the navy, marking the final addition that may be made to American war forces under the disarmament pact, when the West Virginia, newest American battleship, was commissioned at Norfolk navy yard. With a displacement of 32,000 tons, electric drive, eight 16-inch guns, the West Virginia incorporates the most approved features of the post-Jutland design and armament.

Good Business Year—1924

Washington.—Business conditions in 1924 will be similar to those in 1923—"a fair, average year"—according to the president of the Bethlehem Steel company, who says there has been a "definite turn of the tide" in the steel industry. The railroads have made good money, building construction has held up, foreign demand is increasing and public sentiment is generally better than a year ago.

Schools to Use Flag Pledge

Sacramento.—The flag allegiance pledge recently adopted by the American Legion will hereafter be used in all California schools, says Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction. The pledge follows: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and to the republic for which it stands—one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

ALLIES HAVE A NEW REPARATIONS PLAN

WANT UNITED STATES AS KEYSTONE OF SCHEME

FRANCE COMES FORWARD WITH NEW PROPOSITION

Serious Effort Contemplated By Interallied Commission to Aid in Germany's Recovery.—America to Be Cautious.

Paris.—The United States is to again become the key-stone of a European reparations inquiry project. The interallied reparations commission has decided to create two international committees, one to examine Germany's finances and the other to investigate Germany's capital abroad.

The allied governments will consult the United States in regard to participation in the inquiry. It is authoritatively stated that the experts probably will not function unless the United States participates.

Sir John Bradbury, British delegate on the reparations commission, said frankly he expected the inquiry to yield no results unless the United States participated.

Bradbury said that no doubt the question of reducing the amount of German indebtedness would arise during the investigations and also whether the costs of the Ruhr occupation should be subtracted from the total of reparations.

He declared that for the moment these matters had been sidetracked, but said a serious effort would be made to agree on both points. Bradbury revealed that Louis Barthou, French president of the reparations commission, had agreed no appreciable reparations could be received from Germany until German finances were restored and that it was most important to drop everything else and apply full attention to that point.

"If anything comes of the undertaking the United States must come in," another delegate said. "I emphasize that this is not the original narrow Poincare scheme which the United States turned down, but something of wider scope, without restriction."

It is declared that an official American observer will not suffice and that there must be full and effective American participation.

The first of the two committees which will consider German finances will probably consist of two members from each country participating. The members will be bankers and financiers. The committee hopes to have representatives from both the allied and associate powers.

The second committee probably will consist of one member each from all the powers that cooperate.

An official communique, issued by the commission, states that after giving the German representatives a chance for a hearing one committee "would be entrusted with considering means of balancing Germany's budget and stabilizing her currency. The other committee would consider means of estimating the amount of capital exported from Germany and returning it to Germany."

It is declared that the first commission will undoubtedly consider the question of an international loan to Germany. It is emphasized that the participation of the United States in such a discussion is indispensable. Members of the reparations commission admit that the American procedure on the plan is most uncertain.

Delegates, they say, need not be appointed by the United States government, but could be appointed with Washington's tacit agreement.

It is suggested they might be appointed by Colonel Logan, American observer on the reparations commission.

The committees will report to the reparations commission, and the commission will base its discussions of Germany capacity to pay reparations on their reports.

THREATENER JAP UPHEAVAL INTENSIFIED BY DISASTER

Tokio.—Japan's social problem already complex, and in some respects menacing, has been made more complicated and more dangerous by the recent disaster, before which many of the best-informed authorities here, both Japanese and foreign, believed it to be only a question of time before the growing labor and liberal movements, supplemented by increasing living difficulties of the great poverty-stricken masses, would cause an upheaval. And few thought it would be bloodless. But they thought the trouble would be a long time in coming—perhaps some years.

Since the earthquake and as a result of it, many believe the probabilities of social disturbance have been greatly increased and the time of its coming hastened.

Five thousand cattle, horses, sheep and hogs were entered in the individual fat and breeding classes at the International Livestock exposition at Chicago, last week, which does not include entries in the horse show nor the large entry of market animals. Cattle led in the number of entries in the individual classes and hogs held second place. Sheep totalled 1,048 and 580 horses entered the tanbark arena. Thirty states and four Canadian provinces were represented, giving a comprehensive display of the champion livestock products of each section of the continent. Agricultural colleges from sixteen states and three from Canada entered the competition with the finest products of private herds.

Miss Amy Steinhart, head of the bureau of children's aid of the state board of control, is working on a plan which she hopes will assure Santa Claus reaching the more than 2,000 orphan children who live away from the centers of population and are often forgotten or overlooked. The record for October shows a greater than seasonal increase in the volume of business transacted, says the federal reserve board of this district. Prospective building operations assumed record proportions. Bank credit for financing this increased activity, and for harvesting and marketing the crops of the district, has continued abundant and relatively cheap.

PERRY-JACOBS

Mr. Sol Jacobs and Miss Mary Perry were quietly married in San Jose Wednesday by the Rev. Morrison, of the Congregational church. On account of Mr. Jacobs' health their planned honeymoon trip south will be postponed for a time.

Mr. Jacobs has been suffering from throat trouble for some time and Mrs. Jacobs, a trained nurse, has been attending him.

The marriage comes as a surprise to some while some of their friends had an inkling of the event some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs are both well known here and the Press joins in expressing heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

DO CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY

The newspapers throughtout the country are all pushing the campaign for completion of Christmas buying early and joining with the Postal Department in especially urging the necessity of mailing parcels now. Don't put it off, as the congestion of the parcel post will delay packages. Not only do delays occur but with the unavoidable overcrowding of mail bags, parcels are more or less crushed.

Several current magazines have had illustrated articles showing the heaps of wrecked Christmas parcels due to poor packing and poorer wrappings and tying. If an article is worth sending it is worth receiving. Do it up in strong wrapping well tied with strong twine.

U S SAVINGS PAY BETTER NOW

The savings department of the United States Government has changed name and is now known as the "Treasury Savings Organization."

The price of Treasurer Savings Certificates has been reduced and they are now an even more attractive investment—the $25 certificates can now be bought for $20, the $100 certificates for $80, and the $1000 for $800. At these prices the Certificates will yield about 4½ interest per annum, compounded semi-annually, if held to their five-year maturity. If cashed before maturity the owners will get back what they paid at the rate of about 3½ per cent per annum compounded semi-annually.

CAMPBELL VS SAINTS

This Friday evening the Campbell hi quints of A and B classes will play Santa Clara hi teams at the new Campbell gym . This is a Peninsular Athletic League game and should be a fast one.

Next Friday our boys meet the Palo Alto hi teams at the local court in a P. A. L. game.

These games are played in the evenings to give the busy people an opportunity to see them and you should give the teams your support by attending.

ATTEND P T A

Tuesday, Dec. 11, is regular meeting day for the High School P. T. A. which will assemble at 3 o'clock. Mrs. H. A. Watrous a former resident of Campbell, will hold a parliamentary drill.

The senior class won the $2.50 prize last month for the highest percentage of mothers present. All parents of high schol students are urged to be present and help your child's class win the prize.

L. B. Mallory, of Fresno, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Case Monday. Mr. Mallory is a judge of labor claims and being called to San Francisco on that business took a run down to Campbell for a short visit.

CHINESE CUSTOMS CLUB TOPIC

Continuing the study of China and its people, the subject considered Monday by the Country Woman's lub dealt with Characteristics and Customs.

The first part of the program was given by Mrs. Whitman, who read a very interesting paper on " Chinese Characteristics." Part of the material was taken from a book written by Dr. Smith on "Characteristics of the Chinese." Many interesting features of the life and qualities of this strange people were mentioned and some of the changes taking place among them.

Mrs. Mary Lanphear had as her topic, "Chinese Ceremonies" and followed her paper with a description of the "Temple of Heaven," as seen by an artist.

"Secret Societies" of which there are scores among the Chinese was interestingly treated of by Mrs. Effie Hubbell. The skill of the Chinese in imparting information and knowledge by secret signs and codes was mentioned among other peculiarities of their organizations.

The fourth division was that of "Ceremonies" which are the breath of life to a Chinese. The chairman, Miss A. E. Denton, ably presented this subject. The description of a dinner served in the home of a high class mandarin, was very interesting.

A delightful part of the program was a short entertainment given by a part of the C. U. G. S. kindergarten pupils, under direction of their teacher, Miss Lewis.

CAMPBELL BOY GETS PIG FOR SHOW

The California Poland China Association recently offered twenty registered pigs of that breed, worth $50 each at weaning time, to the schools where agriculture is part of the high school curriculum.

So many applications were put in that it became necessary to make the decisions by lot, and the C. U. H. S. was fortunate enough to get one.

It was left to the instructors to give the animal into the care of one of heir pupils seemingly most qualified to secure the best results. C. E. York, of the Campbell school selected Merle Gardner of Leigh Avenue as he had had the best success in raising pigs.

The only condition attached to the giving of these pigs by the Association was that they should be exhibited at the State Fair in September, the expenses of the exhibitor being shared by the Association and the Railroads, which transfer live stock free of charge to these exhibitions.

CHURCH EVENTS PLANNED

The Mission Study Class which began last Sunday evening at the Congregational church had an attendance of 56, which was very encouraging for their first night.

Next Sunday evening from 6.00 to 6.30 we are to enjoy a real treat in having Mrs. Graham Lee who was a missionary in Pyeng Yang, Korea, for 20 years. We do not often have such a privilege as this and we hope many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

The Annual Every Member Canvas of the Congregational Church will be made Sunday afternoon, December 16th. Within a few hours, the ten teams of men who go out, call upon every member of the church and receive their subscription for the next year's work of the church.

At the Congregational church next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "The Rising Tide of Missions."

The Vesper service in the evening is held from 5:30 to 6:00.

CHRISTMAS TREES READY for SHIPMENT

Supplying the country with its Christmas trees is no small job these days. A million or more trees are sacrificed every year and they come mostly from the woods of northern Vermont, and are of two species of pine, the Norway spruce and the balsam fir. People of the Middle West and southern states demand the Norway spruce, while eastern people want the balsam. Here are the trees ready for freight shipment, 2,500 of them to the car, tied up in bundles of three to five trees, according to size.

WILL the Christmas tree become a thing of the past? There are tendencies which would seem to indicate that a substitute may usurp the throne this green harbinger of merriment and good will has held in the hearts of the people for many decades. One of these influences is the danger of a conflagration in the home where Christmas trees are lighted with candles, although this danger is being partially overcome by the use of electricity for illuminating purposes. Another restrictive tendency is the cost of Christmas trees and the growing difficulty of obtaining them.

Moreover, a conviction is growing in the public mind that it is poor economy to cut Christmas trees from the tops of mature trees or take down a tree that has been growing for 15 to 30 years for a one day's celebration. The availability of artificial substitutes and the natural trend toward a change in the customs of the people also bear on the possibility of the disuse of the natural tree.

The Yule log succumbed to the greater attractiveness of the Christmas tree. And the Yule log had its predecessors in the various celebrations that occurred at the close of the old and the beginning of the new year during the first centuries of the Christian era.

The Christmas tree is believed to be a German institution, but the Romans celebrated the birth of Christ about the middle of the Fourth century by the display of tree decorations, and in some sections of Europe the festival was observed by the employment of pyramids decorated with green twigs and ornaments. Christmas trees should not be cut except from dense growths where thinning of young trees can be made with benefit to the forest. The New York State College of Forestry in the interest of conservation of the forests urges the adoption of artificial substitutes for trees in the observances of the Yule-tide festival.

IT'S IN THE AIR

This time of the year is hard on chronic grouches. Oh, no, not the fact of the sunshine, or even a little fog. It's the time of year, you know—the short days and long nights . It's the mysterious sly whispers, the conversations that stop so abruptly when certain persons appear.

It's the laughter we hear, now more than ever, on the streets, in the living room, at the bench. It's the wistful look kids have, the unsuccessful attempts they make to read the countenance of their parents. What scowling old grump can escape it!

You may have the rheumatism, the prunes may still be on your hands with no market, Uncle Henry may have died and left you not a penny, but somehow about this time of year you can't help being happy.

The entire nation becomes infected with this curious seasonal malady. And they do say it's just as prevalent in foreign countries, too. For a fellow to escape it, he would have to go way out on the desert or up in the mountains, dig his grave and then lie in it. And then chances are someone would come along and wish him the compliments of the season.

So that's no use, old bears, cross patches, frowners and mean folk. You've just got to smile from now on until Christmas. It's in the air. Merry Christmas! Say it with joy. Maybe a little of the gladness will stick in your soul through the year.

THE WORD CHRISTMAS

Brevity may be the soul of wit, but abbreviation is not the soul of high sentiment and sacredness that attach to Christmas. Why abbreviate the syllable that carries its sacred meaning? Why make it "X"? Surely the ink or space or trouble saved does not warrant marring a word that holds such high place in heart and memory.

"Lincoln's Birthday" and "Washington's Birthday" have not been cut down by abbreviation. And certainly Christ's birthday should be as generously dealt with. It's "Christmas" in speech. Let it be so in writing.

HERE'S a rather happy state of affairs: The holiday season, with its spirit of gaiety and feasting, matches with Nature's demand for more calories. Cold weather calls for extra food to produce more bodily heat. Appetite sits up. Richer food tastes good. We even have Nature's permission to take on more weight. And with loads of things handy that are good to eat, this is truly a happy state. We are all lucky.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting with Mrs. M. J. Wilson, November 21. A short business session was held at which the resignation of Mrs. Clara Baldwin as superintendent of the department of Americanizatioin, Child Welfare and Medal contest was received and accepted. Mrs. Baldwin has very efficiently filled these offices and the Union loses a beautiful worker by her removal to San Jose.

Mrs. F. C. Farr was elected superintendent of Child Welfare, and Mrs. C. H. Davidson superintendent of Americanization.

Mrs. Cora B. Baker, state and county superintendent of Child Welfare was present and gave an address on the work of this department. Speaking upon the seeming lack of respect and reverence in our young people for older people, the laws and the church, she said that we were largely responsible. We criticize the officials, the laws that do not suit us, and even our pastor, and very freely discuss our friends and neighbors. Then the comic sections of the newspapers, and the motion pictures that make the home life appear inattractive, have their influence also. These things cause the young to feel that there is nothing sacred. If we want the young people to have high and noble ideas we must set the example ourselves.

Mrs. Wilson then gave additional items frm the State W. C. T. U. convention. During the social hour following the meeting the ladies had the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Baker, who charmed all by her winsome personality.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Newcomb, December 5.

ANOTHER CITY ADOPTS ZONES

Restrictions on Building Locations in Force in Providence, Rhode Island, Are Commended.

It is fortunate for the city that there was no delay in passing the zoning ordinance. Providence for years has needed restrictions covering such points as height, area and use of buildings; this has been acknowledged from the first by the members of the city council; the debate recently was on the method of appointing a board of review and not on the restrictions embodied in the ordinance. The procedure as to the appointments specified in the ordinance ought to insure the selection of competent and trustworthy men as members of the board of review; if it does not, the ordinance can be amended by the city council. This is a detail which can be taken up at any time if there should be good reason for a change.

The ordinance has been examined closely by hundreds of citizens whose property is affected, and as yet no opposition to the restrictions has developed. The committee in charge had the benefit of expert knowledge on zoning, and it is evident from its map and the accompanying report that every part of Providence was inspected before the laying out of the districts. This accounts for the general approval of the plan. Now that the city has a specific scheme for the development of property, it is the duty of every citizen to co-operate with the inspector of buildings and the board of review in carrying out all the provisions in letter and in spirit.—Providence Journal.

MY OLD HOME TOWN

My old home town, as of old, nestles still
In the valley's lap down under the hill.
And in ghost-like silence through ev'ry street
Troop memories sad and memories sweet.

I have just been back to the dear old place
Where kindness abounds with infinite grace.
The town was decked in flora of spring,
And fairies wrote operas for birds to sing.

My welcome was shown by the nodding trees—
Greetings like kisses were in ev'ry breeze—
The daffodils, pansies and roses rare,
Said with sweet breath they were glad I was there.

And my friends, with hearts as warm as the sun—
Those few yet left with whom life was begun—
And the children of those now long since dead
Made action speak loud all love could have said.

As the River of Time speeds on its way,
I never shall ask for a sweeter day
Than the few just spent in my old home town,
Where the love of friends was my royal crown.
—M. J. Verdery in New York World.

SANTA CLARA CO. PURCHASES PARK NEAR SODA ROCK

SAN JOSE,—Santa Clara county secured its first county park when the board of supervisors completed negotiations for the purchase of 360 acres of land in the vicinity of the famous Soda Rock on the Stevens Creek road, in a foothill canyon twelve miles southweet of this city. The purchase, which the supervisors have been contemplating for three years, marks the first step towards securing for this county a number of county parks to be used by the public as picnic and recreation grounds. The land bought is a natural park site, having numerous trees, flat creek bottom land, etc., extending for over a mile along Stevens Creek. With a few inexpensive changes the site can be made into a model park, the supervisors state.

In announcing the purchase of the Soda Rock property from the MacDonough estate, the supervisors declared that they will engage in an extensive program of establishing similar county parks, both for the purpose of preserving the natural beauties of the Valley of Heart's Delight and with the idea of giving auto picnic parties suitable and easily accessible grounds.

RAILROADS SET EIGHT RECORDS IN YEAR 1923

MORE FREIGHT TRAFFIC HANDLED DURING YEAR THAN IN ANY SIMILAR PERIOD

SPEND $1,303,000,000 FOR NEW FACILITIES

PLANS MADE TO CONTINUE FINE RECORD OF EFFICIENCY WITH AID OF SHIPPERS

At least eight new records in transportation service to the public have been set by the railroads this year.

This was disclosed in the report of Directors of the American Railway Association, just received by the Southern Pacific Company, reviewing results of the program to furnish adequate transportation to the public, adopted early in 1923, and telling of plans to continue this good work for the rest of the year and in 1924.

The new records established are as follows:

(1) The railroads, from January 1 to October 1 put in service 134,636 new freight cars and 2,963 new locomotives—a larger number than in any similar period during the last ten years.

(2) A larger number of locomotives and cars have been repaired and put in serviceable condition than ever before in any equal period.

(3) The railroads handled more freight business between January 1 and October 20 than in any corresponding previous period. The number of cars loaded with revenue freight was 40,545,920. This compares with 34,220,426 in 1922 an increase of 18 per cent; and with 36,827,588 in 1920, the previous record year, or an increase of 10 per cent.

The box car surplus in the grain producing states has been the greatest in history.

(4) The average miles moved by each freight car daily in the first 9 months of the year was 27.6 miles, and in September reached 29.2 miles. This compares with 22.5 miles in the first 9 months of 1922, 22 miles in freight cars owned, whether in transit or not.

Without Congestion

(5) Because of these increases in facilities resulting in the more rapid movement of cars a record breaking business was handled without congestion and with practically no car shortage or embargoes for the first time in years.

(6) The amount of freight service rendered with each car was 511 tons carried one mile daily during 8 months of 1923, which exceeds the record of any previous year, and surpasses that of 1922 by over 31 per cent.

(7) From January 1 to October 1 the number of tons of coal dumped at Lake Erie ports for movement by boat to the Northwest was greater than in any previous year. The program of providing coal for the Northwest was completed much earlier than in any previous year, thereby making available additional locomotives and cars for other commercial interests during the fall and winter months.

(8) A greater amount of railroad coal has been placed in stockpile storage than was ever heretofore stored by the railroads, thereby making available additional locomotives and cars for general commercial service during the fall and winter months.

The railroads have spent $1,303,-244,000 for new equipment and other facilities this year up to October 1, a record amount.

In addition to these expenditures the Class 1 roads in 1922 expended $1,668,573,271 for materials and supplies used in operation and maintenance and this year will have spent $1,800,000,000 by the end of December for this purpose.

Altogether the Class 1 roads in 1923 will have spent over three billion dollars for equipment and facilities, materials and supplies. This money has gone to the industries of the country and is one of the prime causes contributing to their expansion and the employment of labor, which, in turn, has been a major factor in the increase in domestic demand for both the products of industry and the farm.

Fair Income Needed

The Association points out that a continuance of these enormous capital expenditures, which are necessary if the public is to be adequately served, depends on such net income to the carriers as will permit a fair return on the property now devoted to the public service and will make it possible to secure the new capital which is imperatively needed. Attention is called to the fact that despite the unprecedented volume of traffic successfully handled this year, the railroads have not earned even the moderate net income permitted by the Transportation Act.

In a drive on the tax collector's window in Los Angeles impatient taxpayers scored a knockout, several black eyes and numerous bruises.

Remove Building Hazards.

Civic bodies and legislatures should diligently work to remove all unnecessary hindrance or hazards to the individual home-building instinct, such as fire loss, difficult and complicated real estate transfers, uncertain values due to unwarranted changes in the use of real estate through lack of zoning laws and city plans, monopolistic and price-fixing material and labor conditions and labor disputes.

To incline a series of laws toward encouraging home building is less sentimental than practical and fundamental; in fact, all beneficent laws may well be tested by the one question: "Do they tend to make more and better homes?" for home ownership visualizes and substantiates the highest instincts of man and leads the strongest motive force we have—parenthood—to the noblest products of human energy and democratic citizenship—Exchange.
